Why We Recommend TLC Pet Food

A Personal Recommendation From Corner Stone Bernese Mountain Dogs

As dedicated Bernese Mountain Dog breeders, one of our greatest responsibilities is ensuring that every puppy we raise receives the best possible start in life. From the moment our puppies are born until the day they join their forever families, their health, development, and overall well-being remain our highest priorities.

One of the most important factors in raising healthy, happy dogs is proper nutrition. What we feed our dogs plays a significant role in their growth, development, energy levels, digestion, and long-term health. This is why we proudly recommend TLC Pet Food as a nutritional option for our puppies and their families.

Why Nutrition Matters to Us

As breeders, we understand that nutrition is not simply about filling a food bowl. It is about providing dogs with the nutrients they need throughout every stage of their lives. Bernese Mountain Dogs are a large breed, and their nutritional requirements deserve special attention, especially during puppyhood. Properly balanced nutrition is essential for supporting healthy growth, muscle development, strong bones, and overall physical well-being. We believe that choosing a quality food is one of the most important decisions a dog owner can make.

Why We Recommend TLC Pet Food

1. A Focus on Balanced Nutrition

One of the reasons we recommend TLC Pet Food is its focus on providing complete and balanced nutrition through carefully developed formulas. Dogs require an appropriate balance of proteins, fats, carbohydrates, vitamins, and minerals to support their daily nutritional needs. We appreciate companies that recognize the importance of providing these nutrients together in a thoughtfully formulated diet.

2. Supporting Healthy Growth and Development

For us, raising Bernese Mountain Dog puppies means paying close attention to their growth and development. Large-breed puppies have unique nutritional requirements because their bones, joints, and muscles develop rapidly during their early months. We encourage our puppy families to select a formula that is specifically appropriate for the growth of large-breed dogs, including the correct balance of calcium, phosphorus, and calories. Our goal is to help every puppy develop at a healthy, steady rate rather than encouraging unnecessarily rapid growth.

3. Digestive Health and Nutritional Consistency

Digestive health is another important consideration when choosing food for our dogs.
A consistent, well-balanced diet can help support normal digestion and healthy stool quality. We believe that maintaining a dependable feeding routine is especially important for young puppies as they transition into their new homes. Sudden changes in food can sometimes lead to digestive upset. For this reason, we encourage families to maintain their puppy's established feeding routine initially and make any necessary dietary changes gradually.

4. Supporting Skin, Coat, and Overall Wellness

Bernese Mountain Dogs are known for their beautiful, thick coats, and maintaining healthy skin and coat condition is important to us. Appropriate dietary fats, essential fatty acids, proteins, vitamins, and minerals all contribute to normal skin and coat health. We believe that good nutrition should support the entire dog, not simply one aspect of its appearance.

5. Building a Foundation for Long-Term Health

Our commitment to our puppies does not end when they leave our home. We want our puppy families to have the information and resources necessary to make informed decisions throughout their dog's lifetime. While no dog food can guarantee the prevention of disease or eliminate genetic health concerns, proper nutrition is an important part of responsible dog ownership. Providing a balanced diet, maintaining an appropriate body condition, encouraging suitable exercise, and following veterinary recommendations all contribute to a dog's overall quality of life.

Why We Encourage Our Puppy Families to Consider TLC

When families welcome one of our puppies into their homes, they are not simply purchasing a puppy. They are becoming part of our extended Corner Stone family.
We take that responsibility seriously. We want our families to feel confident about the choices they make for their dogs, including the food they provide.

Our recommendation of TLC Pet Food reflects our belief in prioritizing nutritional quality, consistency, and responsible feeding practices. We also understand that every dog is an individual. Some dogs may have allergies, sensitivities, medical conditions, or other dietary needs that require a different nutritional approach. We always encourage families to work with their veterinarian when determining the most appropriate diet for their dog.

Our Commitment as Breeders

At Corner Stone Bernese Mountain Dogs, we strive to raise puppies with love, dedication, responsible breeding practices, and attention to their individual needs. Nutrition is an important part of that commitment. We believe our responsibility is not only to raise beautiful Bernese

Mountain Dogs but also to educate and support the families who welcome them into their lives. We want our puppies to thrive not just during their first few weeks or months, but throughout the many years they spend with their families.

That is why we recommend TLC Pet Food as a company worth considering when choosing a nutritional formula for your beloved companion.

Our goal has always been, and will continue to be, to give our dogs the best possible foundation for a healthy, happy, and fulfilling life.
